Over 73% of the Milwaukee County tax levy is used to pay for state-required programs and services. Instead of calling it a County Property Tax, it should be renamed a State Property Tax! State mandates have increased at a rate of 3.22% per year.

The 2005 Milwaukee County Budget

The first and best place to start when putting any budget together, whether at home or at the county, is to make a commitment to honesty and reality. The 2005 budget submitted by the County Executive needs a healthy dose of both. As your County Supervisor, I believe in holding the line on property taxes as well as presenting the true and realistic results of that pledge.

Major increases in health insurance along with the increased cost of providing basic services have placed a tremendous burden on this year's budget. The County Executive has chosen not to address these issues for the long term but instead present two very troubling proposals.

First, the issuing of pension obligation bonds is, in short, a plan to borrow $260 million and reinvest that money with the hope of earning a greater return. This scheme can only be described as extremely risky given today's financial climate. If the value of the investments goes down, it would have catastrophic fiscal implication for Milwaukee County.

Secondly, the proposal to sell $11.6 million of county land is extremely speculative. Currently, Milwaukee County has millions of dollars worth of land for sale.

In a typical year, land sales can produce between $1 million and $2 million of revenue. To over-inflate the projected revenue from land sales is extremely irresponsible. Failure of either or both of these risky proposals will result in devastating mid-year cuts to services and to quality of life areas such as parks.

I believe the budget to be a contract with the taxpayers, in return for the citizens' hardearned tax dollars; Milwaukee County promises to use that money to provide needed core services.

Major changes will be needed to make this budget realistic, honest and one that delivers quality services without overburdening the taxpayers of Milwaukee County.

Determining what goes into the 2005 county budget is a very difficult process. As your County Supervisor, I would like your input and will be holding numerous town hall meetings to discuss the effects of each budget proposal.

Working together, I am sure our community can overcome any difficulties that may lay ahead.

Come discuss District concerns and questions you may have about the 2005 Budget with your neighbors and County Supervisor John F. Weishan, Jr. at one of the following community meetings

Ways to improve our community

Become a Foster Parent

There are over 3,000 children in the foster care system in Milwaukee County. These children have been placed into care under the jurisdiction of the Milwaukee County Children's Court for various reasons including physical and sexual abuse, neglect and abandonment. Foster care is designed to provide a nurturing and loving environment where these children can grow and thrive until they can be reunited with their birth families.

Currently, there are only 1,400 licensed foster parents in Milwaukee County. Many people who are interested in becoming foster parents are reluctant to pursue it because of the many misconceptions that people have about what it takes to be licensed as a foster parent. You may obtain a foster care license if you are single or married, employed full time or part time, a renter or homeowner, living outside Milwaukee County and even if you have no children of your own.

There is a great need for more foster parents in Milwaukee County. Foster parenting can be an extremely rewarding experience and is a good way for someone who loves children to give back to the community.

First Choice for Children is a program of Lutheran Social Services of Wisconsin and Upper Michigan. In conjunction with the Bureau of Milwaukee Child Welfare, First Choice for Children provides licensing, regulation and support services for foster parents within Milwaukee County. If you would like to learn more about becoming a foster parent contact First Choice for Children at (414) 264-KIDS.

Give a child the gift of a family.

Louisa May Alcott Elementary School honored as a Blue Ribbon School

Congratulations to Principal John Valdes, the teaching staff, the parents and all the students that have worked to achieve the prestigious honor of being named a Blue Ribbon School by the U.S. Department of Education. 256 Schools nationwide were selected as Blue Ribbon Schools for achieving one of three goals:

- 1) Schools with at least 40 percent of their students from disadvantaged backgrounds that dramatically improve student performance on state tests, as determined by the state school chief.
- 2) Schools whose students, regardless of background, achieve in the top 10 percent on state tests.
- 3) Private schools that achieve in the top 10 percent in the nation.

Alcott Elementary, thank you for providing our children the opportunity to accomplish their dreams!

Thank you Lauretta Barwick for representing the 16th District in the Milwaukee County Senior Statesman Program. Lauretta participated in a two-day learning session that teaches Statesmen how to be advocates on behalf of the concerns of seniors. She attended a County Board Meeting, met government officials, visited a courtroom, toured the jail, and participated in many events that provided insight to the workings of County government. Please contact the Milwaukee County Department on Aging at 289-6873 if you are interested in becoming a Statesman in 2005.
